1. PASSION, POISON AND PETRIFICATION

A Melodrama

by

G. B. Shaw

CAST:

Lady Fitztollemache J.S. Chadwick.
Phyllis, her maid R.L. Stirling.
George Fitztollemache M. Albert.
Adolphus Bastable J.F. Poulton.
Landlord S.A. Marshall.
Doctor G.M.A. Jepson.
Policeman S.N. Jenkins.

~~PRODUCER: J.M. Newcombe.~~

The play is a parody of the typical Victorian melodrama. It is a story of the eternal triangle with one or two unconventional twists, including the changing of a man into a statue, an attempted stabbing with a fish slice, and three of the characters being struck dead by lightning. If you think that this is improbable you are right.
